

belly bootcamp attendance, make-up & refund policies

We at Belly Bootcamp understand that life with a baby can be unpredictable and that attendance is sometimes impossible. Therefore, we offer ONE make-up class per registration for those attending once per week and TWO make-up classes for those attending twice per week. These classes can be made up by attending at one's enrolled location for one additional week at the end of the client's registration period.

Registration is by pre-enrolment and not on a "drop-in" basis to ensure the safety and effectiveness for which Belly Bootcamp classes are known. Classes are to be used in succession within the 10 weeks for which you have enrolled. All enrolments expire 11 weeks after initiation in order to accommodate the abovementioned make-up week, if required. You will receive a notification by email in advance of your final paid class allowing you to reserve your spot for another 10 week enrolment.

Classes will run in fair or inclement weather and will only be rescheduled at the discretion of the instructor and with prior notice. In cases of extreme weather clients will be notified by phone or email regarding cancellations. Same-week make up classes at other days/locations can sometimes be accommodated by emailing contact@bellybootcamp.ca, and are subject to available room in requested classes.

Registration may be placed on hold on one occasion during a 10-week enrolment for vacation purposes. Please notify Belly Bootcamp upon registration via the online registration form. Should your plans change, please email contact@bellybootcamp.ca to amend your registration dates.

Belly Bootcamp classes are not scheduled on all statutory and civic holidays, and from December 22-January 1, inclusively. Enrolled dates will reflect these closures and no make-up arrangement is required.

Belly Bootcamp classes are limited in size and spaces are reserved for clients. For this reason, no refunds will be offered. Should your participation in Belly Bootcamp end earlier than expected, your unused classes will be transferred to another Belly Bootcamp class for your use in the future.

I HAVE READ AND ACCEPT THESE POLICIES.
